What's new at Kinder Klassiks!

It's time for the second Kinder Klassiks Newsletter! This edition lets you the exciting things that have been happening.

We've been working hard getting the rest of Grimm's collection ready, including a beautifully illustrated book! (See We're Doing It!)

New Article Section

We've put an excerpt on the website from Mary Hill Arbuthnot's book, Children and Books, about why folk tales are for modern children. Arbuthnot has been the leading authority on literature for children, and this article is well worth reading, especially if you think folk tales have no relevance in today's society! We are always interested in your comments and ideas, so please e-mail us at info@kinderklassiks.com

Kinder Klassiks at Borders!

Borders in Bozeman is retailing our CDs and Kristina performs there live! This has led to another idea---taking Kinder Klassiks to schools and communities. We're putting together a one hour radio theatre show this summer. We'll keep you posted on our progress.

Huge Press in Bozeman

We received a wonderful write-up in the the Bozeman Daily Chronicle--front page photo and two-page center spread. Visit our website to check it out!

Tell Your Friends

Please help us in our mission by subscribing to our newsletter and, of course, listening to the CDs. If you think we're pretty cool, and you haven't done this yet, please forward this Newsletter on to all your friends and family. The more people we reach, the more we'll be able to offer in exciting classical literature. Kinder Klassiks is for anyone who has children in their life...or who may be a big kid themselves!!

Kinder Klassiks Mission Statement

- To help children of all ages become familiar with classical literature by providing it in an exciting new format
- To provide the highest quality in children's audio entertainment
- To preserve our literary heritage for future generations.

Kinder Klassiks: The Company

New to our company! You are probably wondering who Lana Cissel is! Lana is a god-send. She has been helping me with all sorts of things, like designing this newsletter. Besides her administrative and techno talents, she is also a huge fan of Kinder Klassiks and has tons of ideas for me. I haven't thought of a cool title for her yet, but I'm working on it. There will be more about Lana in the About Us section on the website.

Kinder Klassiks is owned by Kristina Lankford Salvador, a professional voice over artist and dialect coach. To read more about her, just visit our website, www.kinderklassiks.com

Future Plans

Our goal is to have 50 audio titles in our library, including fully illustrated texts-a solid classical foundation for all children. Preserving our literary heritage by getting children excited about the classics-that's what we're about.

The second CD is nearly ready for its final mix! Stories to look forward to are: The Fisherman & His Wife, Rumpelstiltskin, The Frog-Prince, The Water of Life, The Queen Bee, The Fox & The Horse. The CD will be around one hour in length. We'll have the new page up on the web site shortly, so you can hear the audio samples. Our wonderful illustrator has been working on full color illustrations for the book for Volume I, which is now being typeset. Look for it soon!

Previous customers can look forward to receiving a discount on Volume II, our gift to you for giving us a try!

I know you'll love the new CD as much as the first one! Look for a new shopping cart and promotional opportunities coming soon. It will be our way of saying thanks for being a great customer and fan! Please subscribe to our Newsletter and we'll keep you updated as new CDs, articles, and books become available.

Sincerely,

Kristina Lankford Salvador
